Frequently Asked Questions

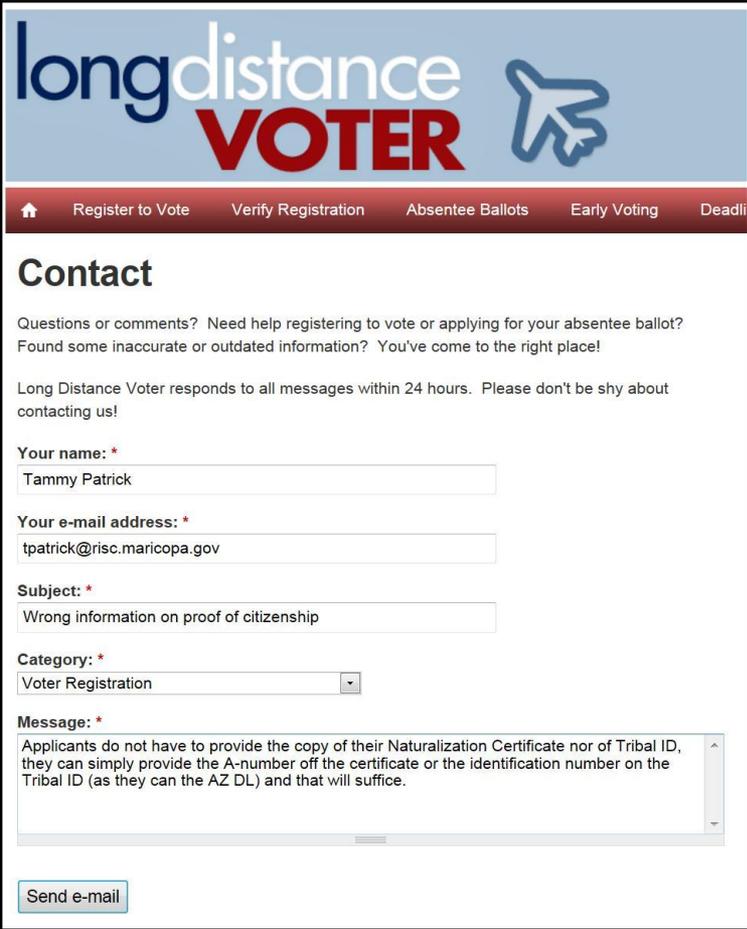

How do I meet the proof of citizenship requirements when registering to vote?

Your voter registration form will be rejected if it does not include proof of citizenship. If you have an Arizona state issued ID (driver license or non-operating identification card issued after October 1, 1996) this will serve as proof of citizenship and no additional documents are needed. If not, you must attach one of the following documents:

- A legible photocopy of a birth certification that verifies citizenship and supporting legal documentation (i.e. marriage certificate) if the name on the birth certificate is not the same as your current legal name
- A legible photocopy of the pertinent pages of your passport
- A copy of your U.S. naturalization documents
- A copy of your Tribal Certificate of Indian Blood or Tribal or Bureau of Indian Affairs Affidavit of Birth

- La Conferencia Nacional de Legislaturas Estatales envía una recolección diaria de noticias en “The Stateline Daily” .
- Me quedé sorprendida por éste artículo en Wyoming:

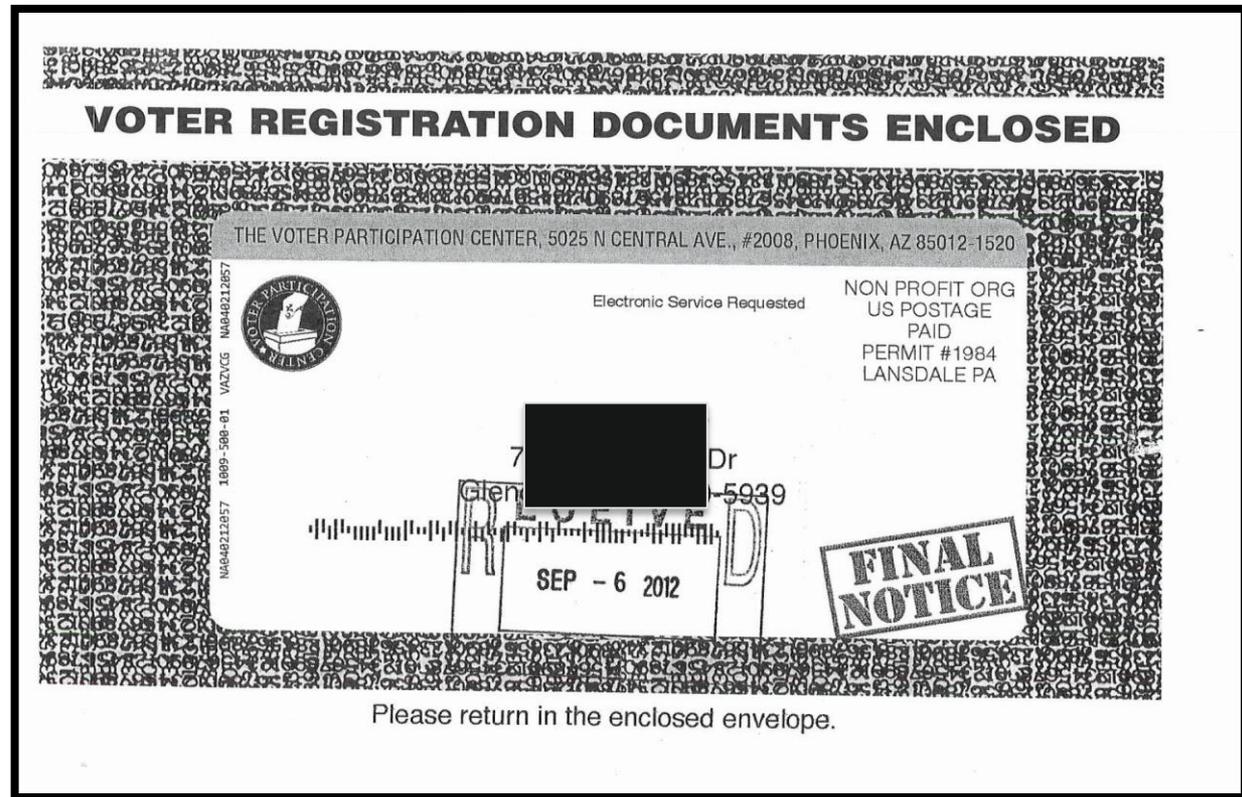

Después de contactar al reportero esto fué corregido en la versión en línea.

WY: Wyoming is one of the toughest states for ex-felon voting rights. Wyoming remains the third most burdensome state in which to regain voting rights, say experts. Only two states, Arizona and Nebraska, prohibit ex-felons of all stripes from having their rights reinstated. All but 11 states permit ex-felons to vote with no restrictions.
